8.3. The Bank shall, without the Client's separate instruction and consent, debit all the fees payable under the Contract, from the Client's Investment Account specified in the Special Part of the Contract, and if there are insufficient funds in it, from any other account of the Client in accordance with procedure set in the bank account contract concluded by the Bank and the Client on the day of the Transaction execution or provision of other service or on the day of payment of the FI custody fee established by the Bank (if the fee is paid monthly, quarterly or annually, the Bank shall write it off immediately after the end of the relevant period).

9. CUSTODY OF FINANCIAL INSTRUMENTS AND FUNDS

9.1. The Bank shall open and manage Investment Accounts on behalf of the Client, in which only such FIs may be accounted for as may be accounted for by the Bank in the Investment Accounts opened with the Bank. The Bank may refuse to accept for inclusion in the Investment Account FIs issued by certain types, classes or issuers as well as FIs traded on certain markets.

9.2. The Bank, while holding the Client's FIs and in order to ensure security of the Client's FIs and monetary funds, segregates the Client's monetary funds and FIs from the property of the Bank and other Bank's clients.

9.3. The Bank keeps the Client's FIs, which are issued by foreign-registered issuers, in the credit institutions registered in Lithuania or foreign countries of other institutions that are entitled to provide FI custody services, and therein:

9.3.1. On behalf of the Bank, opens the Client's omnibus account, in which the Client's FIs are separated from the Bank's assets, and the corresponding entries are made in the Client's FI personal account with the Bank; or

9.3.2. On behalf of the Client, opens an account in which only the Client-owned FI are kept (costs borne by the Client); or

In this case, the FI custodian can direct the satisfaction of its claim rights to the Bank and/or other Bank Clients towards the FIs in such an account.

9.4. The Bank may not enter into agreements on a FI financing transaction where the subject of the agreement is the Client's FIs held by the Bank, or otherwise use the Client's FIs for its own account or for the account of another client of the Bank or another person, except where the following conditions are met:

9.4.1. The Client has given the Bank his/her express prior consent to use the FIs belonging to him/her under certain conditions;

9.4.2. The use of the Client's financial instruments must be subject to specific conditions to which the Client agrees.

9.5. The Bank shall not be entitled to enter into agreements on a FI financing transaction where the subject of the agreement is the Bank's Client's FIs held in an omnibus account opened and maintained by a third party, or otherwise to use the FIs held in such an omnibus account, either for its own account or for the account of another of the Bank's clients or any other person, except where, in addition to the conditions set out in paragraph 9.4 of the Contract, one or more of the following conditions are met:

9.5.1. Each Client whose FIs are held in the same omnibus account opened in the name of the Client has given its express prior consent;

9.5.2. The Bank has adequate systems and controls in place to ensure that only those FIs belonging to Clients who have given their explicit prior consent in accordance with the procedures set out in paragraph 9.4 of the General Part of the Contract are used.

9.6. In the event that the Client's FI or monetary funds are kept abroad, the Client's FIs and funds shall be insured in accordance with the law of that state.

9.7. The Client must note that:

9.7.1. In the event that the Client acquires FIs which are issued by foreign-registered issuers, they are kept abroad and the law of the foreign FI issuer's state is applicable to them. In this regard, the rights granted to the Client by FI or funds may be different;

9.7.2. Regardless of this Contract, the FI custodian may have the rights of obligation enforcement, property retention or counterclaim set-off in respect of these FIs or funds.

9.8. The Client is solely responsible for timely submission of notices about acquisition of FI blocks in accordance with the applicable law and is aware that the Bank does not provide such messages on behalf of the Client, unless otherwise agreed by the Parties in writing for such notifications.

9.9. The Client will independently exercise the rights and obligations conferred by the Client's FIs deposited with the Bank.

9.10. The Bank is not liable for any losses and/or expenses and/or restrictions and/or loss of rights of the Client incurred or arising from fact that the Client does not perform or improperly performs the requirements provided for in the legal acts of the Republic of Lithuania or foreign countries to disclose information about FI transactions (block acquisitions, management transactions, etc.).

9.11. The Bank informs that funds held in the bank account with the Bank and the Bank's liabilities to investors are insured by the State Enterprise Deposit and Investment Insurance, as provided for in the Law on Insurance of Deposits and Liabilities to Investors of the Republic of Lithuania (the "Law"), except for deposits and liabilities to investors that are not considered insurance objects as such provided for in the said Law.

9.12. The Bank shall keep the FIs issued by foreign issuers in the FI accounts maintained by foreign-based FI account managers, in accordance with the requirements of the legislation of the country where the FI account is opened, the relevant market practices, the requirements of the relevant account manager and the terms of the agreement with such account manager. The Bank will select the foreign-based custodians of the FI accounts at its discretion and will also give such custodians the right to store FIs of foreign issuers with other custodians when the relevant custodian is not able to store the relevant FIs directly. The Bank will select foreign custodians for foreign FIs in accordance with criteria established by the Bank and the principles of reasonableness and fairness. The foreign-based custodian that will store the Client's FIs in accordance with this paragraph may have enforcement, lien, attachment or set-off rights in respect of the Client's FIs held in its custody in relation to the Client's FIs, which may result in a change in the safeguards in relation to the storage of FIs.

9.13. The Client's FIs belonging to foreign issuers will be stored with foreign FI account managers in FI accounts opened in the name of the Bank, with an indication that the FIs held in such accounts are owned by the Bank's clients. In the event that such possibility is not available in accordance with the requirements of the legislation of the country in which the FI account is opened, the Bank will store the FIs of foreign issuers at its discretion in the FI accounts opened in the name of the Bank together with the FIs belonging to other clients and the Bank, in the FI accounts opened in the name of the Bank where the FIs are stored separately from the FIs belonging to other clients of the Bank and/or the Bank, which may result in changes in the security measures relating to the storage of FIs.

9.14. If the Bank holds the Client's FIs in an FI account managed by a foreign FI account manager in the name of the Bank and in the country in which such foreign FI account manager operates, it is not possible to indicate that the FIs held in such FI account are owned by the Bank's clients, which would result in the FIs held in such account being deemed to be the property of the Bank in that country, and the Bank has informed the Client to that effect, the Client must obtain prior written consent of the Bank before acquiring a block of FIs (five per cent or more of the relevant issue of FIs) in such country. In such case, the Bank shall have the right, at its sole discretion, to require the Client to open a FI account in its own name in such country and to transfer the FIs of the relevant issuer to such account, or to refuse to grant the Bank's consent referred to in this paragraph above.

9.15. The rights of a Client to FI issued by foreign issuers or funds kept abroad may vary depending on the laws of jurisdiction, followed in the course of investing in such FI or keeping funds.

9.16. Regardless of the provisions of any agreement entered into between the Bank and the Client, the depositary that holds the Client's FIs or funds may have a retention right with respect to such property (Client's FIs or funds), to make a set-off using such property or other security collateral.

9.17. The Client is informed that in certain cases, due to foreign legal acts, the transfer of financial instruments of foreign issuers from one account manager to another account manager is possible only with the conclusion of a transfer transaction in a regulated market or multilateral trading system.

9.18. The Bank shall inform the Client of:

9.19. The Bank shall not be obliged to inform or advise the Client of meetings of FI holders, events or other actions in relation to FIs which fall outside the scope of paragraph 9.18 of the General Part of this Contract and the Client shall be obliged to independently obtain information on such FI events and actions of the issuer using other sources of information.

9.20. The Bank shall not be responsible for the accuracy or completeness of any information received from the issuer or third parties regarding FI events or for informing the Client about FI events.

9.21. The Bank shall not be responsible for the transmission of information to the Client if the issuer has transmitted the disclosure of information to the holders of the FIs issued by the issuer to the CSD or to the foreign FI account manager, but the information has not been transmitted to the Bank for any reason.

9.22. The information referred to in paragraph 9.18 of the General Part of the Contract, as well as other information relating to the actions of the issuers of FIs which the Bank has decided to disclose at its sole discretion, shall be provided by the Bank to the Client by e-mail.

9.23. Upon receipt from the Client of information on the exercise of shareholder rights in public limited companies incorporated in EU or EEA Member States, the Bank shall immediately forward it to the CSD or the foreign FI account manager. Once the information has been forwarded to the CSD or the foreign FI account manager, the Bank shall not be liable for any acts or omissions of the CSD or the foreign FI account manager in connection with the further forwarding of such information to the issuer.

9.24. If the Bank, through the CSD or foreign FI account manager, receives confirmation from a public limited liability company registered in a Member State of the EU or the EEA of the receipt of the Client's votes at a shareholders' meeting where voting was conducted by electronic means and/or of the registration of the votes cast by the Client in accordance with the law, the Bank shall immediately forward such confirmation to the Client.

9.25. The Bank shall have the right to disclose, in accordance with the procedure and to the extent prescribed by law, information about the Client and the Client's FIs issued by an issuer registered in an EU or EEA Member State.

9.26. In addition to any other information obligations imposed by or arising under this Contract, the Client shall provide, at such time and in such manner as the Bank may determine, such information as may be requested by an issuer of shares registered in an EU or EEA Member State whose shares are owned by the Client in order to comply with any request for information from a CSD, foreign central securities depository or foreign custodian of FI accounts.

9.27. The Bank's provision of information to the Client regarding FI events shall be deemed to be a mere provision of information and shall not be construed as advice, suggestion or recommendation to take any specific action in respect of the relevant FIs.

9.28. During a FI event, the Bank shall comply with the regulations of the relevant central depository or FI settlement system or with any instructions or directions received by the Bank from the central depository or FI settlement system or from the person to whom the relevant FIs relate. In the course of servicing a FI event, the Bank shall be entitled to provide information about the Client to CSD, foreign central depositories, FI settlement systems or financial intermediaries involved in the custody of the Client's FIs, provided that such information is necessary to enable the Bank to take the necessary action in relation to the Client's FIs in accordance with the rules governing the relevant depository or financial intermediary. The Bank shall not be liable for any loss or expense that the Client may incur as a result of the Bank's compliance with the above rules or instructions.

9.29. The Client acknowledges that he/she is aware that during certain FI events the Bank has the right, without the Client's instruction, to block the FIs in the Client's account until the end of the FI event. The Bank shall not be liable for any loss suffered by the Client as a result of the Client being unable to dispose of such FIs during the said period.

9.30. Documents provided by the Bank to the Client to inform the Client of FI events may be provided by the Bank in the language in which they were transmitted to the Bank.

10. LIABILITY OF THE PARTIES

10.1. If the Client has missed the terms for payment of amounts due under the Contract, the Bank shall have the right, without separate instruction and consent of the Client, to debit the amounts due under the Contract from any Client's accounts with the Bank. In the absence of sufficient funds in the Client's bank accounts with the Bank, the Bank has the right, without separate instruction and consent of the Client, to debit the amounts payable under the Contract from all Client's accounts in other banks or credit institutions in accordance with debit orders issued and signed by the Bank. This Contract is the Client's multiple consent to debit his/her late payment to the Bank from all Client's accounts in all banks or credit institutions in accordance with the Law on Payments of the Republic of Lithuania. This consent may not be revoked without the written consent of both Parties to this Contract. In the event that the funds in the Client's accounts are not available of insufficient in the currency payable, the amounts debited shall be converted into a payable currency, without the Client's separate instruction, according to the Bank's non-cash (currency) sale/purchase exchange rate set on that day. The Contract is also an unconditional multiple consent of the Client to receive all information about the Client's funds located in all Client's accounts opened with credit institutions in cases where the Client is past due to pay the required amounts to the Bank.

10.2. By this Contract, the Client expresses multiple consent and instructs the Bank, at its (Bank's) discretion, to register Orders for sale of the Client's FIs on behalf of the Client if:

10.3. In the event of a default by one of the Parties to the Contract, the other Party to the Contract shall be entitled to compensation for direct losses resulting therefrom.

10.4. In the event that settlement of an Order executed through a CSD or other central securities depository is not timely due to the Client's acts or omissions, the Client agrees to pay a financial penalty for the untimely settlement. If settlement does not take place on time due to the acts or omissions of the other party to the transaction, the monetary penalty for failure to settle on time shall be credited to the Client's account. Monetary penalties for untimely settlement shall be calculated by the CSD or other central securities depository and shall be debited or credited in accordance with the terms and procedures established by the CSD or other central securities depository. 10.5. If the Client does not pay in due time the amounts due to the Bank under the Contract or the Bank does not transfer money to the Client under the Contract in a timely matter, the Client or the Bank shall, at the request of another Party to the Contract, pay interest in the amount of 0.03 per cent of any outstanding amount or amount not transferred in due time for each day of delay. In the event that the Client fails to transfer the FIs or funds in a timely manner as set out in paragraphs 3.11 and 3.12 of the General Part of the Contract, the Client, at the Bank's request, pays to the Bank interest in the amount of 0.03 of the value of transactions concluded by the Bank for the Client for each overdue day and compensates the Bank for losses incurred by it in accordance with evidence provided by the Bank.

10.6. The Bank does not reimburse the Client for losses and/or expenses incurred due to the malfunctioning or failure of networks, installations, computer equipment, failure to provide data, crises or other adverse changes in the FI market, FI price fluctuations, exchange rate changes, and inflation. The Bank is not liable for losses incurred and/or expenses incurred by the Client as a result of the liquidation or bankruptcy or operation or omission by the issuers, account managers/depositaries, agents/brokers or other third parties.

10.7. The Bank is not responsible for the fact that the FI of different types and issuers purchased by the Client or available to the Client can grant the Client different rights and obligations and the Client did not know about this.

10.8. The Bank shall not be liable if the Client's FI will be taken, cancelled or invalidated due to the reasons beyond the control of the Bank.

10.9. The Bank shall not be liable for the Client's losses resulting from fluctuations in FI prices, crises or other adverse changes in the FI market, changes in exchange rates and inflation, insolvency or bankruptcy of the FI issuer, and any other risks related to FI.

Acts and/or omissions of third parties, including acts of third parties, which have caused damage to and/or otherwise affected the Bank's information systems used for the provision of services and/or resulted in the loss of Client data and/or any communication between the Client and the Bank, and which were beyond the Bank's control and could not have been reasonably foreseen or prevented by the Bank from occurring and the Bank could not have reasonably foreseen the occurrence of these circumstances or their consequences;

10.10.3. Changes in taxes;

10.10.4. The enactment or changes in laws, regulations or other legislation;

10.10.5. The declaration of a pandemic or quarantine;

10.10.6. Acts or omissions of issuers or third parties, and any other circumstances which are not related to the Bank's failure or improper performance of its obligations under the Contract.

10.11. The Bank is not responsible for the accuracy of payments made by FI issuers, their authorized persons, account managers/depositaries, agents/brokers or other third parties, the sufficiency of payments payable to the Client, delay and suspension of payments.

10.12. In the event that the Client improperly fulfils the obligations set out in paragraph 7.1 of the General Part of this Contract, all orders submitted by the Client's representative prior to receipt of the said Client's notice shall be deemed submitted by a duly authorized person of the Client and valid as if submitted by the Client himself.

11. VALIDITY AND AMENDMENT OF THE CONTRACT

If the Client fails to pay all fees due to the Bank or any arrears due to the Bank under the Contract, the Bank shall have the right to withhold the transfer of the FIs and/or funds in the Investment Account to the accounts specified by the Client until the Client has settled in full with the Bank. In the event that the Client fails to settle with the Bank and, after the Bank has sent the Client a demand for payment of all fees and/or debts due to the Bank under the Contract, the Client fails to settle such debts within thirty (30) calendar days of the sending of such notice, the Bank shall have the right to sell the Client's FIs (in whole or in any part chosen by the Bank), the proceeds of which would be sufficient to cover the amounts due to the Bank by the Client as specified in this paragraph 10.2 of the General Part of the Contract, unless otherwise agreed with the Client.
