What kind of product is it?

Type	It is a matched open-ended investment fund investing in bonds in the developing world.
Term	The Fund was set up for an unlimited period. However, it can be terminated at any time if effective management is no longer possible or if changes in economic and/or political conditions require its liquidation.
Objectives	The objective of the Subfund is to provide balanced asset growth. At least 80 per cent of the assets of the Artea Emerging Markets Ex-Dictatorship Bond Sub-Fund are invested in the debt securities of the governments, municipalities and corporates in emerging countries (stock exchanges and markets). The assets of the Sub-Fund may be invested in the securities markets of countries whose economies are Emerging Markets or Frontier Markets according to the S&P and MSCI (Morgan Stanley Capital International) classifications, or in debt securities issued by governments, municipalities, public bodies or corporations of those countries, provided that such financial instruments are traded on regulated markets of the Organisation for Economic Co-operation and Development or the members of the European Union, or of the developed countries according to the MSCI (Morgan Stanley Capital International) classification. Investments acceptable to the Sub-Fund are assessed through negative screening, based on an internal methodology and individual assessment by the fund managers. The analysis of the governance characteristics and the level of democracy of the countries is based on publicly available assessments by the World Bank, Freedom House, the V-Dem Institute and other similar institutions. The list of countries to be excluded from investment is subject to macroeconomic and political developments and is therefore subject to change. The sub-fund combines riskier (corporate bonds) and safer (government, municipal bonds) investments to protect the value of the assets and to ensure an even return on the sub-fund's investments. The sub-fund combines riskier (corporate bonds) and safer (government, municipal bonds) investments to protect the value of the assets and to ensure an even return on the sub-fund's investments. If the market situation does not offer better investment opportunities, up to 100% of the Subfund's assets may be invested in deposits, money market instruments and units, and shares of matched collective investment undertakings whose principal investment focus is money market instruments or bonds and other forms of non-equity securities. The Subfund's assets may be invested in derivatives if they are used to manage risk. Subfund benchmark: 100 % Bloomberg EM USD Aggregate Total Return Index Value Hedged EUR. The management company can choose specific investments at its own discretion. The use of a benchmark is indirect, meaning that the aim is to outperform rather than replicate the performance of the benchmark. The Fund does not aim to make sustainable investments as defined in Regulation (EU) 2019/2088 of the European Parliament and of the Council of 27 November 2019 on sustainability-related disclosures in the financial services sector, nor is it intended to promote the environmental or social performance or any combination of these characteristics. The investments related to this financial product do not take into account the EU criteria for environmentally sustainable economic activity under Regulation (EU) 2020/852 of the European Parliament and of the Council. The depository of the Fund is AB SEB bankas. More information about the Subfund (prospectus, rules, annual and semi-annual reports, and other information in Lithuanian and English) is available free of charge at Artea Bank's customer service departments, the current list of which is available at https://www.artea.lt/en/register-for-a-visit, by phone: +370 610 44447, by email: info@artea.lt, on the website: www.artea.lt, and at all the distributors of the Fund. Lower risk

Higher risk

The risk indicator assumes that the product will be kept for 3 years.

The summary risk indicator shows the risk level of this product compared to other products. It shows how likely it is that the product will result in a loss, either because of changes in markets or because we cannot pay you.

We have assigned this product to risk class 4 out of 7, with 4 being medium risk. This means that losses related to future performance are likely to be moderate.

The following are the types of risks that the Fund may encounter and are underestimated in the calculation of the indicator:

Credit risk. The risk of loss due to the inability of the issuer of the securities to meet its financial obligations.

Counterparty risk. The risk that the counterparty will default on its obligations.

Market liquidity risk. Risk of losses due to low market liquidity, which prevents financial instruments from being sold at the right time at the right price.

Operational risk. Risk of loss due to system failure, human error or external events, including geopolitical, political and legal risks.

The purpose of derivatives is to hedge against adverse market movements for a limited period of time and to reduce the impact of undesirable risk factors.

Performance scenarios

The figures show the total cost of the product itself. These figures do not take into account your personal tax situation, which may also affect how much you get back.

Receivables may vary depending on market performance. Future market developments are uncertain and cannot be accurately predicted.

The unfavourable, moderate, and favourable scenarios shown are examples using the worst, average, and best performance of the product over the last 10 years. Markets may develop very differently in the future.

The worst-case scenario shows what you could recover under extreme market conditions.

What happens if the management company is unable to pay?

The assets of the Fund are held separately from the assets of the Management Company. Therefore, investors in the Fund will not suffer any losses in the event of default or insolvency of the Management Company.

What are the costs?

The person selling you this product or advising you about it may charge you other costs. In this case, the person will provide you with information on these costs and show you the impact that they will have on your investment over time.

Costs over a certain period

The tables below show the amounts deducted from your investment to cover various expenses. These amounts depend on how much you invest, how long you hold the product, and the profitability of the product. The amounts shown here are examples based on the amount of the sample investment and the different possible investment periods.

We make the following assumptions:

- in the first year, you will get back the amount you invested (0% annual return). In the cases of other holding periods, we have assumed that the profitability of the product is the same as under the moderate scenario,
- where the investment amounts to €10,000

	If you withdraw after 1 year	If you leave after 3 years
Total costs	€ 164.00	€ 92.00
Annualised cost impact (*)	1.64 %	1.64 % each year

(*) This shows how costs reduce your return each year over the holding period. For example, it shows that if you withdraw during the recommended holding period, your average annual return is expected to be 4.42 % before tax and 2.78 % after tax.
