FUND MANAGER COMMENT

Artea Emerging Markets Ex-Dictatorship Bond Subfund started the year very strongly with 1.5% growth per month, while benchmark returned only 0.2% in comparison.

US Federal Reserve kept interest rates unchanged during its January meeting, ending a streak of three consecutive rate cuts. US President Donald Trump has nominated Kevin Warsh as the the Federal Reserve Chairman, who has been an advocate of a more dovish, though not extremely, monetary policy. ECB also held rates steady, as inflation has recently even fallen a tad bit below 2%. In Central and Eastern Europe, Romania's sovereign bonds continued its strong performance as fiscal there have been consecutive signs of fiscal consolidation. Turkey (rated BB-) continued its upward credit rating trajectory and received a rating outlook upgrade to positive. The US launched an military operation in Venezuela and captured the country's president Nicolas Maduro. While the operation was unprecedented, wider Latin bonds did not react significantly, as this is seen as a one-off event. Argentina continued positive performance, with its 10-year USD bond yield contracting from ~9.8% to 9.1% during the month.

The Fund added one new corporate bond during the month – Contships Logistics 2030 bonds at 8.3% yield in USD. Contships is the leading container shipping company, specializing in smaller feeder vessels. The company has a very conservative balance sheet, good operating margins and is not affected by geopolitical tensions in the Red Sea. Also, the fund switched to longer duration North Macedonia's sovereign bonds in the primary market. Frigorifico Concepcion has started a recovery rally, gaining almost 25% year-to-date. We added to the position at a price level of 48 and it is currently trading at around 58. This was the largest contributor to positive fund performance. Overall, the fund maintains lower interest rate sensitivity than the benchmark (4.2 and 6.1 duration, respectively) while providing better yield to maturity (5.7% vs 4.0%, respectively).

*Standard deviation is used to measure risk. Standard deviation is an indicator that measures how strongly fund's daily return deviates from its mean. The lower the standard deviation the lower the fund's risk. The standard deviation value corresponds to the period shown in the historical returns graph.

Sortino ratio is used to measure the risk-adjusted return of the portfolio. It is a modification of the Sharpe ratio but penalizes only those returns falling below required rate of return. Sortino ratio is obtained from Bloomberg which measures the ratio over a 3-year period at a daily granularity.
